

Michelle McCarthy, MSN, RNC

michelle.mccarthy@salve.edu

EDUCATION	Present	EdD Candidate	Northeastern University, Boston, MA Concentration: Curriculum, Teaching, and Leadership
	2010	MSN	University of Phoenix, Phoenix, AZ Nursing, Concentration: Informatics
	2007	BSN	Salve Regina University, Newport, RI Nursing
	2003	ADN	Community College of Rhode Island, Newport, RI Nursing

CERTIFICATIONS

Aug 03 – Mar 23	Rhode Island RN License
Jul 17 – Jul 23	New Hampshire RN License
Mar 04 – Mar 22	BLS - Basic Life Support
Dec 06 – Dec 21	RNC, Inpatient Obstetrics

CAREER

Sept 12 – Present Salve Regina University

Responsibilities consist of the following:

- Didactic Instructor of several courses: Pathophysiology, Healthcare Informatics, Public Health IRE, Preparation for Licensure I and II, Introduction to Professional Nursing
- Faculty Mentor for student organizations and clubs: Student Nurse Organization, Diabetes Club “Cranky Pancreases”, Women’s Rugby Club, Nursing Department Community Engagement Liaison
- Service Leader on Florida Service Immersion and Ireland Study Abroad

Major Accomplishments:

- Facilitated Med-Surg clinical for BSN students in a long term and acute care environment.
- University faculty approval for new course: Public Health IRE, Ireland Study Abroad
- Nursing Department Curriculum Committee member

Dec 19 – Present Village House Nursing and Rehabilitative Center

Responsibilities consist of the following:

- Long term care, Acute Rehabilitation Services

Major Accomplishments:

- Provide care and medication management for 40 long term care residents
- Manage acute care rehabilitation for recently hospital recently discharged patients experiencing various conditions such as infections, surgeries, and orthopedic events
- Supervise ancillary staff during shift: medication techs, certified nursing assistants, activities personnel, physical and occupational therapists

Michelle McCarthy, MSN, RNC

michelle.mccarthy@salve.edu

Jun 03 – Jul 17 Newport Hospital, RI – Clinical Nurse III (Obstetrics)

Responsibilities consist of the following:

- Labor, Delivery, Recovery and Post Partum

Major Accomplishments:

- Assisted in the natural and operative delivery of over 100 children. Many of these infants required specialized care due to substance dependencies, premature delivery or trauma to mother. Primary interface to physician and other staff members during these deliveries. Delivered several children due to circumstances requiring immediate medical care in the absence of primary physician. Duties also include; charge nurse, continuous monitoring of mothers-to-be in all stages of labor, pre-natal care, resource liaison for staff members, primary contact for all scheduling of nursing staff on the maternal child health floor. Also, Ready Point for Operating Room with routine and emergency births. Provide bereavement support for those cases of infant demise.

Aug 10 – Sept 2016 University of Rhode Island

Responsibilities consist of the following:

- Clinical Instructor – Obstetrics

Major Accomplishments:

- Facilitated OB clinical for BSN students in a hospital-based environment.

Oct 12 – Aug 16 Bayada Home Health Care

Responsibilities consist of the following:

- Home care nurse for 11-year-old pediatric patient

Oct 10 – Jun 12 New England Institute of Technology

Responsibilities consisted of the following:

- Development of curriculum for a new ADN program
- Simulation Laboratory Coordinator
- Fundamentals, Leadership and Pediatric Instructor (Clinical and Theory)

Major Accomplishments:

- Assisted in the development and approval of the Associate in Science Nursing Degree program at New England Institute of Technology. Curriculum development of several courses including pediatrics, nursing fundamentals, leadership, and dosage and calculations. Developed simulation scenarios utilizing computerized simulation patients. Prepared documents for review by the National League for Nursing Accrediting Commission and participated in the initial accreditation interview for the college.

Jun 08 – Oct 10 Newport Hospital, RI – Clinical Nurse Supervisor (Per Diem)

Responsibilities consisted of the following:

- Served as administrative authority during off shifts for all nursing units

Michelle McCarthy, MSN, RNC

michelle.mccarthy@salve.edu

Major Accomplishments:

- Supervised the provision of quality nursing care given within the hospital setting, maintaining the quality and adequacy of nursing practice while coordinated nursing staff to patient ratio. Assisted in solving professional, administrative and supervisory problems arising during shift. Applied professional knowledge in solving nursing problems within established policies and practices.

Mar 06 – Sept 09 Women and Infants Hospital, RI - Stillbirth Collaborative Research Network

Responsibilities consisted of the following:

- Interview case and control study participants
- Provide grief counseling
- Compile specimens and data collection

Major Accomplishments:

- Certified as an on-call staff nurse, following the National Institute of Health guidelines for human participant protection education. Provide comfort and support to mothers who have lost their infant due to known and unknown causes of stillbirth. Assist in gathering information for this research project spanning the United States

PROFESSIONAL HONORS AND RECOGNITION

Sigma Theta Tau International Society of Nursing, University of Phoenix, 2010

William K. Turner Scholarship, Newport Hospital, Newport, RI, 2007, 2008, 2009

PRESENTATIONS

Farnum, M. November, 2008. Newport, Rhode Island. What is Magnet? Newport Hospital, Newport, RI

Farnum, M. January, 2007. Warwick, Rhode Island. Bereaving Families. Stillbirth Collaborative Research Network Conference. Kent Hospital, Warwick, RI.

PROFESSIONAL SERVICE

Professional Organizations

Association of Women's Health, Obstetric and Neonatal Nursing, 2005- present

Sigma Theta Tau International, 2010- present

Society of Pediatric Nurses, 2012 - present

College Activities

Initial Accreditation of Associate Degree in Science in Nursing by the National League for Nursing Accrediting Commission

Development and integration of the National League of Nursing Core Competencies throughout nursing curriculum

Michelle McCarthy, MSN, RNC

michelle.mccarthy@salve.edu

Development of nursing curriculum for several courses including Nursing Fundamentals I, Pediatrics, Nursing Leadership, and Dosage and Calculations

Nursing Advisor for students enrolled in Salve Regina University Nursing program

Faculty Advisor for Salve Regina University Student Nurse Organization

Faculty Advisor for Salve Regina University Women's Rugby Club

Faculty Advisor for Salve Regina University College Diabetes Club, Cranky Pancreases

Nursing Department Community Engagement Liaison

Community Service

Florida Service Immersion, Salve Regina University Trip Leader, 2017 – present

Ireland Study Abroad, Salve Regina University, 2018 – present

Relay for Life, Salve Regina University, 2017 - present

Jimmy Fund Boston Marathon Walk, 2009 – present

RI Department of Health H1N1 school vaccination clinics and Covid Teams, 2009 - present

Caring for Cole Fundraiser, 2012

Walk 4 Hasbro, 2011

References: Furnished upon request